

Killings

Burmese Army soldiers and militias kill any villager they suspect supports pro-democracy guerrillas. Villagers who try to run away to escape forced labour are gunned down. In areas the Burmese Army has declared as "guerrilla zones" even children are shot on sight.

These Karen villagers hiding in the jungle were hunted down and killed by Burmese Army soldiers.

Photos: Karen Human Rights Group